General Information

Call or Visit

We are pleased to have you come by to visit. This year the gardens are open Wednesday through Sunday, 9 am to 4 pm (Central) from April 19 to July 1. We are closed Monday and Tuesday. Otherwise, we are generally available, but you should call to let us know you want to visit and to be certain we will be here. We are located approximately 45 minutes southwest of Nashville (see Directions). Our number at the farm is 800-934-4747. We are in and out but will return your calls as soon as possible, and next to growing plants we like best to talk about them.

Tall Beardededs bloom late April to mid May, followed by Louisianas mid to late May. Species iris and species crosses bloom at various times throughout April, May and June and the water lilies all summer. Our peak peony bloom is around mid-May and daylilies mid-June. We also grow many reblooming bearded iris that bloom in the Spring and rebloom from June to November, depending on weather. Bring a lunch, the kids and pets, and spend the day; we'll supply the picnic tables, lemonade, flowers and beautiful country setting. Please call near the dates you want to visit to be sure weather hasn't changed our bloom schedule.

Ordering and Payment

Our minimum order is $20, plus shipping for each shipment required. We will accept orders from this catalog through September 1. We do not ship in the spring and are not able to export. Please order early as some of the plants listed are in very limited supply and will sell out. You can print the order form from our web site and mail it in, fax it to us at 800-934-4747 or call in your order to 800-934-4747. We also accept orders by email. Be sure to completely fill in all information on the order form, include a street address and telephone number, and directions if you are hard for UPS to find. In lieu of wholesale prices, we offer the following discounts to all:

10% discount on orders over $250,
15% over $500 and
20% over $1,000

Full payment by check or money order should accompany your order. We accept most credit cards if that is more convenient for you. We deposit your checks and process your credit cards when we receive your order and withdraw the plants from our available inventory.

Gift Certificates

Available at any time. Give us a call and you can give an iris gift during any season.

Shipping

We send fine, large, bare-root plants, freshly dug. Planting and care instructions specific to your order will be included. (Also see Growing Tips in the back of this catalog.) We use UPS Ground or USPS for all shipments. We do not export plants. We do not ship iris in the Spring as we have had a much higher success rate planting after bloom.

If you have a specific time you need your plants to be shipped, let us know and we will try to accommodate. Those in colder areas should order to plant in time for the iris to become established, at least four weeks, before the ground freezes. (Alternately, we have heard good things about holding plants over the winter indoors in pots in the lower zones, then planting out in the Spring.) For best growing results, we ship as follows:

Bearded iris - mid July through the end of August
All other iris (beardless, crested, etc) - September

For shipping in the continental U.S., please add:

$14 for each shipment if your Zip Code is below 80000 or $18 for each shipment if your Zip Code is above 80000
plus $0.50 for each plant over 10 plants ordered

If you want bearded iris in July and Louisianas in September, that will require two shipments and separate shipping charges should be included. If you are in Alaska or Hawaii we will compute your actual shipping charges and let you know the amount. If your Zip Code is above 80000, UPS ground delivery generally takes 5-6 business days. UPS Blue Label Air Service and USPS Priority Mail will deliver generally in 3 business days. If you feel you need this air service, please add $0.85 per plant to your shipping charges computed above. Air service is not necessary for Zip Codes below 80000.

Substitutes and Bonus Plants

Some varieties are in short supply, in particular those noted "Ltd Q", and will sell out early. Also, weather conditions occasionally reduce the performance of some plants so that supplies are less than we planned. Please indicate a few acceptable substitutes, or allow us to substitute varieties of equal or greater value. We will substitute only with your permission, but we promise that you will be happy. We always include bonus plants (unless you indicate not to on your order) and will do our best to select those from your substitute list.

Guarantee

We guarantee our plants to be true to name and to arrive in good condition. If they do not arrive in good condition, give us a call immediately and we will take corrective action. If we made a mistake in filling your order or you are not satisfied for any other reason, let us know as soon as possible and we will make amends. We trust that you will follow our Growing Instructions in the back of this catalog.

Iris pallida KUPARI x ROSEMARY'S DREAM (MTB)

Garden Markers

These are the garden markers we use in our plant beds. They are double stainless steel legs, 12" or 18" tall, with a 3½" by 1½" aluminum plate with rounded edges.

The plates can be marked with a variety of markers. We use a Listo pencil, which lasts well and can be removed so that the plate can be reused. We use the Brother label system for long-lasting printed labels. We've also had good success with Avery clear labels printed with a laser printer and have heard that paint pens work well.

Unlike most, these marker legs will not rust, an unappealing sight in an otherwise beautiful garden, and can be used over and over for years to come. The stainless steel legs will fit most of the popular marker plates sold, so you can replace those rusty legs and not have to re-mark all the plates.

Books

For the beginner and the expert we offer William Shear's excellent reference, The Gardener's Iris Book. It is soft-cover with 170 pages packed with great photos and iris information from the parts of the bloom to hybridizing, and includes growing and dividing instructions, sources and how to choose the right variety for your garden. Suggested retail is $17.95.

THE GARDENER'S IRIS BOOK 5.00

Louisiana Iris

A hybrid of the series Hexagone which includes I. hexagona, I. fulva, I. brevicaulis, I. nelsonii and I. giganteaerulea, Louisianas will grow in standing water but are perfectly happy in regular garden conditions if the soil pH is 6.5 or lower. They bloom about two weeks after tall bearded, mid to late May for us. Louisianas require a rich acid soil and heavy feeding of a balanced fertilizer. They should be kept well mulched and can be moved in late summer to early fall. Set the plants at least two feet apart as they multiply and spread rapidly. The rhizome should be planted horizontally, about 2" deep, and should be kept moist, particularly during the growing season.

I. brevicaulis (Rafinesque 1817)	12" L	8.00
Beautiful pale blue-violet, signal surrounded by white. Flowers borne down in the foliage on zigzag stalks. Very cold-hardy.

Other Beardless Iris

Iris anguifuga. Native of China believed to repel snakes. It grows all winter, blooms in the spring then, about the time snakes would put in a showing, goes completely dormant until late fall. Propagated from a single rhizome in Zone 5 where it has proven totally hardy with no mulch and bloomed yearly in half a day's sun and unmodified garden soil.

SNAKE BANE (Waddick 2007) AM2016 14" E 8.00
Standards violet, style arms paler violet. Falls white ground veined darker violet, fades with age. Spuria-like form; slight fragrance.

Iris laevigatae. Grow best in wet places or ponds but will do equally well in a garden setting if given moisture during dry summers. They like full sun, rich acid soil, lots of water and are very easy to grow. They are native to Japan and bloom along with the tall bearded iris.

I. laevigata 30" M 8.00
Attractive cobalt-blue flowers in May and smooth wide green foliage. Likes lots of moisture and acid soil.

I. laevigata Double 24" M 8.00

From seed collected in Taipei, Taiwan by Joan Cooper. Appears identical to SUN MOON LAKE. Violet blue self, style arms lighter at edge, dark violet spots on falls; very large white crest spotted purple. Very vigorous.

WOOLONG (Waddick 2002) FSM2014 10" M 10.00
Larger and more vigorous than the species (and more cold tolerant), the standards are blue-violet with paler style arms. Falls are blue-violet with darker spots; white crests. (Grows to about 20" for us).

Iris versicolor. The blue flag, this is the most common native iris of the northeastern U.S. It likes moisture and will grow well in any sun in ordinary garden conditions. Excellent branching and numerous flowers.

BETWEEN THE LINES (Schafer/Sacks 1991) FSM01 22" M 8.00
White ground veined blue-violet throughout. Pearly styles with violet midribs. Yellow signal with a prominent green throat.

JOHN WOOD (Wood/Linberger 1998) FSM06 32" M 8.00
Medium maroon standards veined darker, falls velvety deep red-violet with white ray pattern. Flower stems are black.

Species Crosses

These iris are easy to grow and some bloom very late in the season. Many will grow in standing water, but thrive in regular garden soil.

Growing Tips

In general, your growing area should be kept clear of debris, including dead foliage, so that insects won't have a place to hide and winter over. The seed pods should also be removed as soon as possible to keep bee-pollinated seeds from dropping into your beds. Otherwise, you may suddenly find a lot of iris in your beds that you didn't order and which may not be as attractive as the plants you paid for. If you want to see what the new crosses look like, remove the seed pods and plant the seed in pots.

Beardless iris: Species and Louisiana

Beardless iris: species, and Louisiana, must not be allowed to dry out during transplant. It is beneficial to soak them in water overnight before planting. Once planted, they should be kept moist. After they are established they will be very hardy.

Most beardless iris want a sunny location and a slightly acidic soil for best performance and bloom. The beds should be prepared with plenty of humus and the plants mulched well. Plant Louisiana iris 2" deep. They will grow in standing water or in moist garden soil.

Fertilize with a balanced fertilizer, 15-15-15 for example, in the early spring and again after bloom. Remove the bloom stalks after flowering and cut the foliage down to just a few inches in early winter. Transplanting should be done in the early fall to avoid the hot summer days.

Other beardless iris

I. virginica, I. versicolor, I. pseudacorus and I. laevigata should be treated similarly to Louisiana iris. I. laevigata variegata, however, wants to be in water and should be grown in a pond or in a pot with no holes.

I. tectorum

The "Japanese Roof Iris" is very low maintenance and, in fact, resents too much care. It is nearly as drought tolerant as tall bearded iris and can flourish with very little sunshine (although not full shade). Regular garden soil covering the rhizome ½", a light application of a balanced fertilizer, 10-10-10, in the spring and water only during very dry spells are ideal conditions.

Bearded iris

July and August are the best months to plant the bearded iris although they can be planted almost any time of the year except winter. They prefer sunny, well-drained locations and should be watered until the first new center leaf appears. Take care not to overwater. Plant the rhizomes just below the surface of the soil so that after the first rain the top is exposed. A good low-nitrogen fertilizer such as 6-12-12 or 6-10-10 can be used at planting and again early in the spring. Do not overwater or mulch.

United States Hardiness Zone Map

The USDA periodically publishes a hardiness zone map with zones ranging from 3 (coldest) to 10 (warmest). We are zone 6/7 and can grow all the iris listed in this catalog outside in the ground. However, some types of iris will not winter over, grow well or bloom in certain zones.

The following is our attempt to suggest which iris do well in which zones. However, small local microclimates, seasonal weather severities and general care can cause variances.

Zone 3 - I. versicolor, most species crosses.

Zone 4 - I. versicolor, most species crosses, Louisianas if planted early enough to become established before severe freezes.

Zone 5, 6, 7 - EVERYTHING IN OUR CATALOG.

Zone 8 - Louisianas do great, bearded if not too humid, I. virginica do well.

Zone 9, 10 - Not cold enough for I. versicolor or most species crosses. Louisiana iris are the best choice. Usually too hot and humid for Bearded.

We are happy to answer your questions regarding which species of iris we believe will do best in your climate. However, we also suggest you contact your local iris society (go to www.irises.org to determine a contact for your region). You should also consult nearby botanical gardens and garden centers.

History

In 1931 a group of iris growers and hybridizers formed the Nashville Iris Association to foster the planting and cultivation of irises, with the goal of having Nashville become known as "The Iris City." It seems they succeeded, for by 1948 four Dykes medals, the top honor given to an iris, were won by Nashvillians. Those winners were DAUNTLESS (Connell in 1929), COPPER LUSTRE (Kirkland in 1934), MARY GEDDES (Stahlman-Washington in 1936) and CHIVALRY (Wills in 1945). Additionally, the American Iris Society held three of its annual conventions in Nashville; 1935, 1941 and 1948.

Macey's grandfather, Thomas A. Williams, was among the best known of those irisarians. In the 1930s and '40s he had a long-running local and CBS radio show on gardening and was known as the "Old Dirt Dobber." Mr. Williams wrote a book on gardening and published a catalog of iris under the name Iris City Garden. He was an avid hybridizer of tall bearded iris until his death in 1949. Our logo is the frame that held Mr. Williams' mailbox. We are pleased and honored to be able to carry on his garden name.

Due largely to the efforts of the Nashville Iris Association, the Tennessee Legislature named the iris the state flower in 1933. Although no color or variety was specified, a purple tall bearded is usually depicted.
